

Vocational rehabilitation

Initial Vocational Assessment

An independent and in-depth, face-to-face evaluation to build a comprehensive profile and identify an individual's support needs. This enables an individual to secure new employment or maintain their current role.

The information collected includes:

- > Previous qualifications, employment details, job role and job search undertaken to date
- > Core and transferable skills
- > Current treatment including resulting limitations in work-related activity

Service summary and expected outcomes

- Assessment of an individual's readiness to work, achievable job goals and future support requirements
- Face-to-face meetings take place at a venue suitable to the client
- A local employment market analysis is undertaken
- A report is produced identifying recommendations for vocational options, to assist a client in obtaining employment (includes timescales and costs)

Cost: £850
