

A Claimant's Guide to Vocational Rehabilitation

As the UK's leading provider of employment services, Remploy's vocational rehabilitation service is independent and impartial.

We operate outside of the litigation process and understand the frustrations that can affect a person's claim.

How can Remploy help you?

- Advice, guidance and support to help you return to your previous job, or to seek similar/alternative employment
- A service that is delivered in line with the Rehabilitation Code of Best Practice and at no cost to you
- Nationwide coverage with local expertise
- All of our consultants are professional members of the Vocational Rehabilitation Association

How it works

You will be allocated a local vocational rehabilitation consultant, who will provide support through face-to-face meetings and over the telephone.

Return to work plan

Our aim is to provide you with a tailored action plan to assist your return to work in a way that is safe and sustainable for you. Return to work activities will be focused on your abilities, even if this involves an element of re-training for a new career.
